BROOKSTREET OPENS ITS DOORS TO OTTAWA

Brookstreet joins Doors Open Ottawa this year as the only hotel to be showcased among 119 buildings.

OTTAWA— June 7, 2010 - For the first time, Brookstreet Hotel participated in Doors Open Ottawa on June 5th, 2010. Over 650 people came to tour the only hotel out of the 119 buildings featured by the City of Ottawa.

Brookstreet is a 276 four-diamond CAA/AAA rated hotel located in the centre of Kanata's high-tech area. The hotel is proud to be a part of many green initiatives. Participants were able to enjoy a tour of "Eco Ally" which facilitates a structured recycling and organic waste collection. All employees support the system and help reduce monthly waste by 1.7 tons.

The tour also showcased some of the 276 uniquely designed guestrooms as well as the 16 sunlit banquet and conference rooms for those who were curious about relaxing getaways or upcoming business. Another highlight was the state-of-the-art Flex Fitness Studio and saltwater pools that piqued interest of families and fitness fanatics. The inner workings of food and beverage outlets were also captured in each tour. Young and old alike were interested to see the hotel's artwork that consists of original pieces done by Canterbury High School Art Program students.

"I was surprised to see such a consistent wave of people coming through the building. We welcomed tours that averaged around 40-50 people of all age demographics," says Brent Lavery, Director of Sales and Marketing at Brookstreet.

Brookstreet looks forward to participation in Doors Open Ottawa next year. For more event listings at the Brookstreet please visit Brookstreet.com
